I am impressed with this young chap - Muhammad Nasrulhaq Bin Nasution. He is not only a responsible student, he also takes pride in his work! He has a very positive attitude in learning as well as providing quality work. It was a great pleasure having Nas in our team for this short period of time (4 months). We hope to work more with RP in future.

Vincent has the ability to apply the knowledge he acquired from class at work. He is a highly motivated, committed and responsible person. He took ownership of the tasks assigned to him and ensure that the jobs were completed within deadline. A keen learner and never fail to offer a helping hand to the team when needed. He is good-natured, polite and socialize well with our staff. In conclusion, we are glad to have Vincent doing his internship with Logwin. Certainly, a valued team player to have.

Jun Xiang is a helpful guy. He had demonstrated the willingness to learn. I had always expected an intern to be the one whom only need to learn to understand what is commercial/work life. Jun Xiang had shown more than what I expected. He took over the Supply Chain-GRN role after an existing colleague resigned and demonstrated the capability to help the organization to move forward without much disruption.

Jun Xiang naturally had very good attitude and able to take unnecessary stress from co-worker and managed them effectively. This is impressive as I did not expect a young man to be able to behave so good. Overall, good to have Jun Xiang for the past 16 weeks.

Jasmine is a competent and cheerful worker who brings a smile to her co-workers’ faces with her can-do attitude and enthusiasm towards any given task. She has performed well in all tasks assigned to her and has shown herself to be an asset to any team she is attached to. She does require some improvement in the aspect of time management, but in all it has been a delight having her attached our department.
